

Constitutionalism and Inclusion of Women in Economic Development and Growth (A Law and Economic Analysis)

A Sridhar<sup>1</sup>, Dr. K Rajendra<sup>2</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Visiting Faculty, PG College of Law, Osmania University, Hyderabad & Practicing Company Secretary

<sup>2</sup> Director, Maxian Academy, Hyderabad

ABSTRACT

In the present paper the author explains the constitutional economics and explains the constitutionalism that is aimed at achieving the inclusive growth in the country and specially concentrates on the need for financial inclusion of women for economic development and inclusive growth. Development of women is essential for overall development of any country. In India we are having various legislations and provisions in our Constitution of India for having equal rights to women, but our laws are concentrating on social upliftment of women and we can say that we are successful in achieving the social equality for women in our society, but we need to remember that unless we are developing a person financially there is no scope for all round development of that person. So here we need to develop women not only socially but also financially. We can say that there is a need to inclusion of women financially. This paper explains the meaning of Constitutional economics and how appropriate interpretation of constitutionalism helps in financial inclusion of women in India and the legal framework available for protecting the rights of women and the ideal legal framework which we need to have for achieving financial inclusion of women for economic development and growth.

Keywords: Constitutional Economics, Constitutionalism, Inclusive growth, Women Rights. Financial Inclusion

